15
 16 This Court released defendant Jose Leyva on an unsecured $15,000 personal 17 surety bond. Among the pretrial release conditions imposed was the geographical 18 limitation to the Northern District of California. Mr. Leyva has been supervised by 19 Pretrial Services, and is presently under the supervision of Pretrial Officer Michelle 20 Nero. Mr. Leyva is employed as an independent contractor installing after market 21 electronics such as video, navigation systems, and sat tracking devices.

22 In order to obtain further training and familiarity with new products supplied 23 by one of his primary vendors, Sony, Mr. Leyva wishes to attend a business seminar
 24 in South Beach, Florida presented by Sony. The seminar, called the "Destination 25 Playstation," is an invitation-only seminar geared to train and educate sellers and installers
 26 on Sony's new product lines. Mr. Leyva seeks permission to attend five days – March 1 27
 28

1 through 5, 2006 – (including travel) of this seven-day event. This seminar will be 2 instrumental in training Mr. Leyva for continued employment in his field.

3 The pretrial services officer, Michelle Nero, has advised defense counsel that she 4 has not objection to modifying the terms of the release order to permit Mr. Leyva to travel
5 to Florida and attended this Sony training seminar, provided he advises Pretrial of the 6 details of his itinerary in advance. The prosecutor, Robert Rees, has informed the 7 undersigned that he does not take a position on this request.
